PERNAND VERGELESSES
"SOUS LES CLOUX"

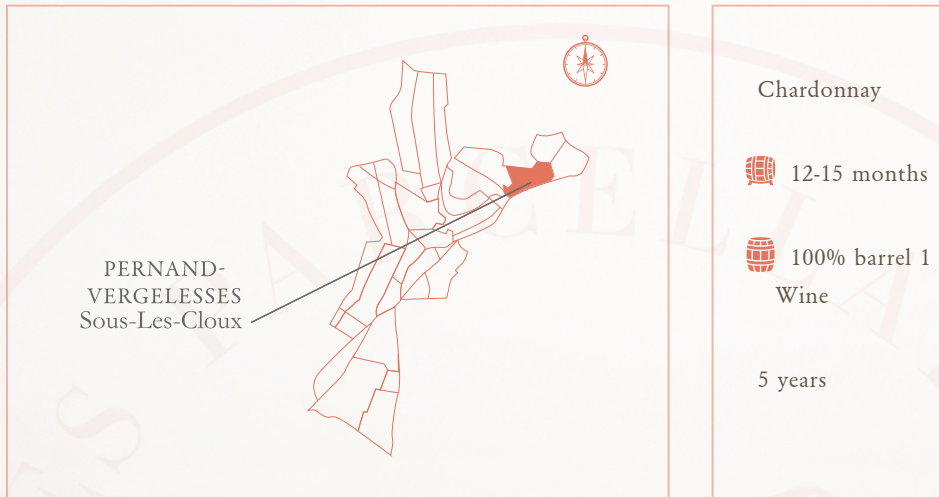

GENEROUS AND VIBRANT

THIS "CLIMAT"

The name "Sous les Cloux" in Pernand Vergelesse comes from the location of this plot in relation to a large enclosed, walled complex which disappeared in the 14th century. Archaeological excavations have revealed vestiges of Gallo-Roman habitats in this location.

TERROIR

A high altitude terroir, in a valley sheltered from the wind and well exposed to the South-East on clay-limestone soil.

TASTING

Appearance : shiny and golden

Bouquet : The first bouquet is fresh with notes of yellow fruits, slightly lemony, a little minty and leaves an elegant finish with nuances of cinnamon and toasted bread.

Mouth : The start is ample, marked by aromas of white flowers, peach and quince. The minerality supports a beautiful complexity with a slightly toasted finish.
